AT-RISK YOUTH NATIONAL FORUM

REACHING BEYOND THE RISK

2016

FEBRUARY 14–17
MYRTLE BEACH, SC
On behalf of the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network and its partners:

Welcome
to the 2016 At-Risk Youth National FORUM
February 14, 2016

Dear FORUM Participants,

The National Dropout Prevention Center/Network (NDPC/N) and our partners would like to welcome you to the 2016 Annual At-Risk Youth National FORUM in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina! We thank you for taking advantage of this wonderful opportunity to network and learn from your colleagues from across the county.

This year’s FORUM has been carefully constructed by the Planning Committee to provide a valuable professional development experience that will enhance your effectiveness as an at-risk youth practitioner. Our staff, along with representatives of our partner agencies, has worked hard to provide an event that will make a lasting impact in your work.

Last year we launched the National Dropout Prevention Specialist Certification Program. Enrolled practitioners can track their exposure to effective strategies and interaction with other professionals through attendance at NDPC/N conferences, demonstrate their experience through field projects, and become recognized as being informed, experienced, connected, and current. This certification program makes a strong statement to peers, employers, and the local community. Through this program, NDPC/N will be able to identify and recognize an army of practitioners in the field of dropout prevention. Interested practitioners may sign up and earn more than half of the credits necessary to complete the program at the FORUM.

Each year it is our pleasure to present an outstanding individual with The Governor and Mrs. Richard W. Riley Award of Excellence in Dropout Prevention. The recipient of this honor is one who has significantly contributed to dropout prevention in the state of South Carolina. We are thrilled to honor Rev. James F. Davis, III this year. Rev. Davis has owned the dropout issue in his community of Ware Shoals, SC. We are anxious for you to hear his story.

On behalf of the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network and our partners, including South Carolina Department of Education, Communities In Schools of North Carolina, Communities In Schools of South Carolina, the UNC Wilmington Watson School of Education Dropout Prevention Coalition, Coastal Carolina University, the Citadel, and T.O.O.L.S. Training Associates, thank you for participating in this year’s FORUM. We know it will be a rewarding and enriching professional learning experience.

Sincerely,

As a certified National Dropout Prevention Specialist, you can also make a statement to your peers, employers, and community – you are informed, experienced, current, and connected.

Professionals in the field of dropout prevention may apply to the National Dropout Prevention Specialist Certification Program. Applicants who are accepted into the program receive a one year individual membership to the National Dropout Prevention Network, discounts toward NDPC/N events and products, and receive special opportunities through NDPC/N. Certification is earned through attendance at 12 designated sessions at NDPC/N events that address dropout prevention and effective strategies and demonstration of practice through a field project. Certification is valid for three years and can be renewed through continued professional learning at NDPC/N events and sustained NDPN membership.

The National Dropout Prevention Center/Network has identified 15 effective strategies that have the most positive impact on reducing school dropout. These strategies serve as the foundation for the NDPS certification program.

Effective Strategies
1. Active Learning
2. After-School/Out-of-School Opportunities
3. Alternative Schooling
4. Career and Technical Education (CTE)
5. Early Childhood Education

2016 Keynote Speakers

Ms. Stacey DeWitt
Founder and CEO, Connect with Kids Network, Atlanta, GA

In 1998, Stacey founded Atlanta-based Connect with Kids to support her passion for helping children. Stacey is a former child advocate with the juvenile justice system, an attorney, and a television journalist. Connect with Kids produces news, television programs, and parenting DVDs focused on the issues children face every day. The programs have won Emmys and Parents’ Choice Awards, and have been featured on the Dr. Phil Show, Good Morning America, CNN, and more. The DVDs are also used in thousands of schools across the country. Stacey and her husband, Sam, are the parents of a preteen son and a teen daughter. Stacey not only talks about the important roles parents play, she tries to live it each day!

Brigadier General Stewart Rodeheaver, U.S. Army (RET)
Founder and President, ViziTech USA

General Rodeheaver served in the U.S. Army for 38 years. He is a proven combat, corporate, community leader, and entrepreneur. He is the owner of ViziTech, a breakaway technology company focused in 3D, virtual, interactive, and augmented reality-based training. ViziTech was Georgia’s “Coolest Technology Company” of the year in 2011 and Stewart was the technology “Entrepreneur of the Year” as chosen by the Technology Association of Georgia. His U.S. Army tours included Central America, dual tours in North Africa, and multiple tours in the Middle East. He also served a two-year command tour of Task Force Lighting in Iraq where he commanded 50% of the city of Baghdad and all of Southern Iraq, including the famed Triangle of Death and the Syrian border.

Mr. Terry Dozier
Former USC and NBA Basketball Player
Westwood High School Basketball Coach, Blythewood, SC

Terry L. Dozier is a retired professional athlete who enjoyed a successful 12-year career playing basketball around the world. His career began in 1989 when the Charlotte Hornets recognized his ability while still a senior playing for the University of South Carolina Gamecocks. Now an ordained minister, Terry has been ministering and mentoring for more than 20 years using the game of basketball to draw young and adult people to Bible study. He has ministered to the homeless at the Café Ministries in Finlay Park and served on the Board of the Youth Hope Foundation at South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice. His honors include the Carolina Gospel Award, the Whitney M. Young Jr. Service Award, and induction into the Boys and Girls Club Hall of Fame. He is in his third year as an administrator and boys' head basketball coach at Westwood High School, Blythewood, SC. Dozier has been married to Kym since 1991, and they have three daughters—Kacey, Kelcee, and Terinee.

2016 Annual At-Risk Youth National FORUM
Across the country, Edgenuity solutions are driving student success—helping students recover credits, stay on track for graduation, and discover a passion for learning. Student success fuels ours, and today we’ve enhanced our technology and expanded our online curriculum to support more students than ever before.

With Edgenuity, schools across America are getting real results—and changing lives.
12:00 noon - 5:00 p.m.

FORUM REGISTRATION
Location: Cambridge Hall

PRE-FORUM WORKSHOPS

(Must be preregistered.)

2:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

PFW1. ACTIVE COLLABORATIVE LEARNING WITH THE BRAIN IN MIND [0204]
Location: Eton
Presenters: Dr. Carmen White and Mr. Lennie Smith, Dramatic Solutions, Washington, DC

Increase academic achievement and add innovative instructional strategies to your academic setting that are anchored in active and collaborative learning. Supported by cutting-edge scientific research on brain-based learning, this session will help participants learn innovative ways to enliven lesson plans, focus learner attention, decrease classroom boredom, and yield enhanced learning outcomes.

PFW2. HIGH RISK BEHAVIOR: GOOD KIDS, BAD CHOICES [0205]
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Ms. Stacey DeWitt, Connect with Kids Education Network, Atlanta, GA

Violence. Substance Abuse. Unprotected Sex. Self-Mutilation. Truancy. High-risk behaviors are often symptoms of a deeper call for help. If we don’t respond to that call, our children can face devastating consequences. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the decisions made and patterns developed during the teenage years have more impact on long-term negative patterns, adult lifestyles, and mortality than at any other time in life. Learn the latest research on how the developing teen-age brain, technology, and recent cultural shifts impact high-risk behaviors and protective strategies that produce positive results.

PFW3. BUILDING CHARACTER: CHANGING THOUGHTS, VALUES, AND BEHAVIORS [0206]
Location: Winchester
Presenter: Mr. Tom Kostic, Santa Clara University, Santa Clara, CA

The character education movement has gained momentum with the increased incidents of student violence and disruptive behavior in schools and communities. Since teachers are already role models, this session gives them the additional tools to hone and expand that role to include everyday ethics, social thinking, values, and behavior, as well as how to incorporate character education into their classroom instruction and how to cope with the realities that get in the way of ethical behavior. This workshop will provide strategies and tools for infusing character into the curriculum. The Markkula Center for Applied Ethics at Santa Clara University has over 20 years of creating character-based curriculum and has trained thousands of teachers in the techniques and methods of decreasing antisocial thoughts, values, and behaviors, and increase positive ones.

PFW4. USING THE 15 EFFECTIVE STRATEGIES TO IMPROVE GRADUATION OUTCOMES FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES [0207]
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Dr. Linda Meloy, Manhattan Strategy Group, Muscatine, IA

Students with disabilities typically are a great challenge for dropout prevention practitioners and in most school districts have the lowest graduation rate of any subgroup. The National Dropout Prevention Center’s 15 Effective Strategies for Dropout Prevention serve as the foundation for graduation rate improvement initiatives across the nation and, with proper adaptation, can be used to improve outcomes for students with disabilities. Dr. Linda Meloy, through her work as a professor and a school psychologist, has a wealth of experiences in both special education and dropout prevention, and will lead workshop participants through an understanding of the 15 effective strategies as they are specifically applicable to special education students. For each strategy category, Dr. Meloy will offer examples and applications that will help both administrators and teachers achieve better outcomes for this population.

EXHIBIT HALL OPEN/REGISTRATION
Location: Cambridge Hall

CONCURRENT SESSIONS
(Participants choose one.)

8:30 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

A MARRIAGE OF WORK AND SERVICE:
WHAT IT MEANS TO GET ENGAGED [0301]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Kensington A
Presenters: Dr. Robert Shumer, University of Minnesota, Eagan, MN; and Mr. Terry Pickeral, Cascade Educational Consultants, Bellingham, WA

Two of the proven strategies to prevent dropouts are service-learning and career/technical education. Reaching at-risk youth involves engaging them in real-world programs. In this workshop we learn about the theory and practice of doing community-connected instruction and engage in activities to actually produce some model programs.

BEYOND BRICK AND MORTAR: REACHING STUDENTS OUTSIDE OF THE TRADITIONAL CLASSROOM USING VIRTUAL LEARNING [0302]
Strand: Out-of-School/Community Programs
Location: Kensington B
Presenters: Mrs. Audrey Harrell, Pearson Education, Garner, NC; and Dr. Sheri Hardin, Mountain Education Charter High School, Cleveland, GA

Online and blended programs have been widely used to help students recover credits. Increasingly, data supports the use of these programs to effectively reach students who have substantial obstacles to obtaining success in a traditional classroom setting. This session will provide participants with information on how districts have implemented a web-based content and platform solution to meet the needs of all students, no matter where they live and what challenges they face to learning.

REACHING THE WOUNDED STUDENT [0303]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Kensington C
Presenter: Dr. Joseph Hendershott, Hope 4 The Wounded, LLC, Ashland, OH

Based on the presenter’s book, Reaching The Wounded Student, this program will look at ways to assist students in becoming academically successful. This practitioner will describe programs and methods for alternative discipline to keep students in the classroom, build esteem, change behavior, increase achievement, and graduate from high school.

HOW TO GET AT-RISK STUDENTS INTO THE RIGHT COLLEGES: STRATEGIES THAT WORK! [0304]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Eton
Presenter: Mr. Mychal Wynn, Foundation for Ensuring Access and Equity, Marietta, GA

This session provides a comprehensive framework outlining “how” to work with at-risk students and families, such as how to build relationships, engage students, provide a context for mentoring, and expand postsecondary access and scholarship opportunities. Students have become Gates Millennium Scholars and have been accepted into highly selective institutions.

A NEW WAY OF THINKING ABOUT GRANT WRITING AND FUNDRAISING [0305]
Strand: Leadership, Policy, and Governance
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Dr. Paul McKenzie, Southeast Center for Strategic Community Development, Lancaster, SC

Hate writing grants? Tired of rejection letters? Maybe you’re thinking about it all wrong. This workshop will teach you a new way to think about writing grants that has been used to secure over $80 million dollars in funded proposals. This high-energy workshop will transform the way you write proposals.
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2016

8:30 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

SUNSHINE ON A CLOUDY DAY  [0306]
Strand: Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Mr. Mansfield Key and Mrs. Sharlene Key, Ole Pete Key Inc., Florence, AL

What do you need to recharge and build a positive work environment? How do you find sunshine or happiness when it appears things are not going your way? This session will help you learn ways to keep the passion for your purpose by using team building exercises, music, and drama. We will help you discover what is needed personally and professionally to obtain “Sunshine on a Cloudy Day.”

ESTABLISHING RELATIONSHIPS: THE KEY TO REACHING AND TEACHING ME  [0307]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Pembroke
Presenters: Dr. Judith Pauley and Mr. Joseph Pauley, National Dropout Prevention Center/Network, Potomac, MD

A seventh-grade teacher in an alternative school used the concepts of Process Communication to establish relationships with her students. Thirty of 31 students improved their grades and/or significantly decreased their disruptive behaviors. One boy stopped fighting. Two girls stopped cutting themselves and no longer thought about committing suicide. Participants will learn these concepts.

THE RESILIENCE BREAKTHROUGH: KEYS TO CREATING A RESILIENT SCHOOL CLIMATE  [0309]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Somerset
Presenter: Mr. Christian Moore, WhyTry, Provo, UT

Drawing from the vital skills of resilience in WhyTry Founder Christian Moore’s book, The Resilience Breakthrough: 27 Tools for Turning Adversity into Action, this engaging presentation empowers participants to learn resilience and to deliver these skills to students of any background and learning style, enabling them to thrive both in school and in life.

10:00 a.m. - 10:15 a.m.

REFRESHMENT BREAK
Location: Cambridge Hall

10:15 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

OPENING GENERAL SESSION
(All are invited to attend.)

Location: Kensington DEFG

WELCOME AND OPENING REMARKS
Dr. Sandy Addis, National Dropout Prevention Center/Network, Clemson, SC

INTRODUCTION OF KEYNOTE SPEAKER
Ms. Teresa Chasteen, WIN Learning, Kingston, TN

CLIMATE CHANGE: BUILDING A CARING, CONNECTED, COLLEGE AND CAREER READY SCHOOL CULTURE
Keynoter: Ms. Stacey DeWitt, Connect with Kids Network, Atlanta, GA

How can we develop a connected, caring school culture that promotes emotionally and physical safety, protects against high-risk behaviors, and provides the best possible environment for students to achieve their academic and personal best? Learn more about the latest research on America’s changing culture, the impact on teen mental health, and positive strategies to create a connected, counterculture of caring that will motivate and inspire students to reach their full potential.

CLOSING REMARKS, ANNOUNCEMENTS
Dr. Sandy Addis

11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

LUNCH (On your own.)
Many young people today carry wounds with them as they head out to school each day, interact with friends and family, and experience life in their communities. These wounds are the result of trauma, many times experienced in the form of poverty, abuse, violence, loss, and family dysfunction. Research shows that this trauma has a direct effect on cognitive function, emotional health, and interpersonal capacity. Educators, counselors, administrators, and youth practitioners can implement trauma-informed policies and approaches to their work that not only move wounded youth toward healing, but have a positive effect on overall student achievement and performance.

TALKIN’ ABOUT LIFE: HOW TO MOTIVATE AT-RISK YOUTH TO DESIRE SUCCESS IN SCHOOL  [0406]
Strand:  Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Winchester
Presenter: Mr. Jules Ferguson, Talkin’ About Life, Anchorage, AK

Jules talks about the challenges at-risk youth face today and how to help teachers and administrators successfully deal with them in a classroom setting. He teaches staff how to motivate kids to desire to change their life by first changing their minds and attitudes. He also helps staff focus on using the tools they already possess in an effort to build better relationships with at-risk youth.

TURNING GOOD TO GREAT: WITH PEOPLE NOT PROGRAMS  [0407]
Strand:  School Climate
Location: Pembroke
Presenters: Dr. Raashad Fitzpatrick, Mr. Daniel Foster, and Mr. Phillip McHam, Gaffney High School, Gaffney, SC

Gaffney High School moved from an ESEA grade of D to B in one school year by utilizing survey data, mentoring, and repurposing of key staff. These changes have caused the graduation rate to increase and perception of school climate for parents, students, and teachers to increase over the past two school years.

IT’S NOT WORKING ANYMORE! RETHINKING SCHOOL DISCIPLINE  [0409]
Strand:  Out-of-School/Community Programs
Location: Somerset
Presenters: Dr. Katie Ahsell, Ms. Ashley Robertson, Mr. Kaleb Carter, and Ms. Michelle Brown, ACTIONS Program-Champaign Unit 4 Schools, Champaign, IL

“Suspensions just don’t work! The kids want to be home!” We developed the culturally responsive ACTIONS program in a high-poverty, large district. We reinvented suspensions, making them more meaningful, which decreased recidivism. Learn to rethink disciplinary practices that take on the toughest students through staff, student, and family support.

TRANSFORMING STRUGGLING READERS TO EXCELLENT READERS: A FOUNDATION FOR ACADEMIC SUCCESS AND DROPOUT PREVENTION  [0501]
Strand:  Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Kensington A
Presenter: Dr. Dee Tadlock, Central Washington University, Shelton, WA

A quality and equitable education is not possible for students who are poor readers. They are prone to defiance, oppositional behavior, retention, dropout, and hopelessness. Learn about a unique intervention model that relies on the plasticity of the brain to transform poor readers of all ages to excellent readers, reversing the negative variables associated with reading problems and replacing them with academic success, restored confidence, ignited potential, and renewed hope.

REACHING THE WOUNDED STUDENT  [0502]
Strand:  Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Kensington B
Presenter: Dr. Joseph Hendershott, Hope 4 The Wounded, LLC, Ashland, OH

Based on the presenter’s book, Reaching The Wounded Student, this program will look at ways to assist students in becoming academically successful. This practitioner will describe programs and methods for alternative discipline to keep students in the classroom, build esteem, change behavior, increase achievement, and graduate from high school.
“ACE”ING HIGH SCHOOL: A NON-TRADITIONAL APPROACH TO REACHING AT-RISK YOUTH  [0503]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Kensington C
Presenters: Mrs. Sara Moseley and Mrs. Faryn Miller, Academy of Creative Education, San Antonio, TX

The Academy of Creative Education (ACE) is an innovative, nationally recognized high school that guides students at risk of dropping out of school through a positive school climate and support systems that connect students with services/resources to keep them from falling through the cracks and set goals for graduating high school and beyond to create a “Life After ACE.”

THE ROAD LESS TRAVELED: A CAREER-PLANNING TOOL FOR AT-RISK YOUTH  [0504]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Eton
Presenter: Dr. Patrick O’Connor, Kent State University, Kent, OH

This presentation examines the changing expectations of the workforce of today and the future. In particular, the preparation of at-risk youth for these expectations is described. A career-planning tool, The Road Less Traveled, is presented as a career-planning solution for students in at-risk situations.

CHARACTER-BASED LITERACY: A RESOURCE FOR REACHING BEYOND THE RISK  [0505]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Mr. Thomas Kostic, Santa Clara University, Santa Clara, CA

The Character Based Literacy (CBL) Program of the Markkula Center for Applied Ethics at Santa Clara University is a character education project and a literacy project. REVIEW OF THE JOURNAL OF AT-RISK ISSUES
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Table 4
Presenter: Dr. Rebecca Robles-Piña, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, TX

The editor of NDPC/N’s biannual The Journal of At-Risk Issues will lead discussion on the relevancy of the journal as well as how to submit publications to this peer-reviewed publication. The journal offers an opportunity for authors to provide new theoretical perspectives to literature on youth at risk of school dropout as well as methods, theories, and results of research-based studies.

THE OPEN CAMPUS HIGH SCHOOL: STUDENT RECOVERY, REENGAGEMENT, AND ACHIEVEMENT
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Table 5
Presenter: Dr. Shanan Chappell, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA

This presentation will focus on student experiences and outcomes from the first year of implementation of a dropout recovery program. The Open Campus High School (OCHS) is an alternative school that provides credit recovery in a flexible, self-paced but instructionally facilitated learning environment that also focuses on students’ nonacademic needs. The purpose of the study was to examine the factors that contributed to the enrollment and continued engagement in the OCHS. The presentation will also include findings on the program’s initial impact on student achievement as measured by the number of diplomas awarded and the number of credits earned. The evaluation is ongoing and session participant discussion is encouraged to help inform improvements to the program and its evaluation.

WORKING WITH HIGH-POVERTY 4K PROGRAMS TO INCREASE PROGRAM QUALITY AND FAMILY ENGAGEMENT
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Table 6
Presenter: Dr. Dolores Stegelin, Eugene T. Moore School of Education, Clemson University, Clemson, SC

Join this discussion exploring strategies for partnerships among teachers, parents, and administrators to enhance school experiences and academic outcomes in high poverty schools.
“Recovered” students are those who leave high school without a diploma and then return. They are courageous and exemplify uncommon motivation, especially when they complete the diploma. In keeping with their peers from traditional school settings, 70% of recovered students have college aspirations. Many recovered students attend 4-year colleges and universities and are student leaders in those institutions. Join this discussion toward understanding the phenomena implied in the trajectory from high school dropout to college graduate.

REFRESHMENT BREAK
Location: Cambridge Hall

CONCURRENT SESSIONS
(Participants choose one.)

3:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.

EDUCATING THE “UNIQUE URBAN CHILD” [0601]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Kensington A
Presenter: Dr. Reginald R. Williams, Sr., Shelby County Schools, Memphis, TN

_Tipping Points_, a book by Malcolm Gladwell, discussed how an epidemic could spread quickly across a city, state, or even country. This epidemic can be of a negative or positive influence. See how the principal at Kirby High School put Malcolm Gladwell’s book to use at a school he inherited on November 26, 2006. Putting parameters in place to address those “Tipping Points” allowed the “New” Kirby High, as Dr. Williams affectionately calls it, make AYP in his first full year.

TRANSFORMING ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION (INCREASING GRADUATION RATES FOR AT-RISK STUDENTS) [0604]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Eton
Presenter: Dr. Lateshia Woodley, McClarin Success Academy, College Park, GA

McClarin Success Academy, once considered one of the lowest performing schools in Georgia, increased their graduation rate by double-digit gains within two years utilizing dropout prevention strategies. Come learn how your school can implement strategies to reduce your dropout rates.
NONTRADITIONAL SUCCESS: MENTORING SECOND CHANCE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS [0605]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Oxford
Presenters: Mrs. Pam Smith and Dr. Paige Swartz, Mountain Education Charter High School, Blairsville, GA; and Mrs. Linda Smith, Mountain Education Charter High School, Ellijay, GA

Located in rural North Georgia, Mountain Education Charter High School (MECHS) is a second chance high school serving students who have left their previous high school setting. MECHS incorporates mentors to provide at-risk students with a “Caring Adult in the Building.” Paid mentors meet weekly with students to provide support and guidance in obtaining their high school diploma and transitioning to postsecondary.

ENSURING BLACK MALE SUCCESS THROUGH LITERACY DEVELOPMENT AND MENTORING [0606]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Dr. Rashaad Fitzpatrick and Mr. Daniel Foster, Gaffney High School, Gaffney, SC; and Mrs. Crystal Irby, Urban League of the Upstate, Spartanburg, SC

This session will provide easy-to-implement, systemwide, K-12 strategies to help navigate African-American males from early literacy development through college entrance. Attendees will be provided with knowledge to combat systemic stereotypical excuses that hinder African-American males progress through the educational system.

HOW TO MOTIVATE THE UNMOTIVATED: TEACHING WITH POVERTY IN MIND [0607]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Mr. Craig Boykin, 180 Group Inc., Montgomery, AL

Learn how to help at-risk students succeed in your classroom. It’s clear that students from poverty are habitually at a disadvantage when it comes to education and educators can find it challenging to motivate such students to become positively engaged in their own learning.

BEING “AT RISK”: WHAT IT IS, HOW IT SHOWS UP, AND WAYS IN WHICH IT CHANGES OVER TIME IF LEFT UNADDRESSED [0609]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Somerset
Presenters: Dr. Mariam Azin, PREA Associates, Park City, UT; and Dr. Kristal Ayres, BrightBytes, San Francisco, CA

While the term “at risk” is used all the time in educational settings, perceptions as to what it means to be “at risk” can oftentimes vary tremendously across individuals and schools. This session will explore the nature of “risk”—what it is, how it can be operationalized, and how it tends to manifest itself over the life span of a student. Research on large-scale longitudinal analyses of students who had major negative events happen in their educational career will be shared.
Place a career readiness guidance plan in the hands of every student with WIN.

Research shows that career planning and family engagement are key factors in reducing dropout for young learners. Helping students find their career path and guidance to get there is at the core of what we do.

CREATIVE ACTIVE AND COLLABORATIVE STRATEGIES WITH THE BRAIN IN MIND [0703]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Kensington C
Presenters: Dr. Carmen White, Dramatic Solutions, Washington, DC; and Mr. Lennie Smith, University of the District of Columbia, Washington, DC

Increase academic achievement and add innovative instructional strategies to your academic setting that are anchored in creative, active, and collaborative learning. Supported by cutting-edge scientific research on brain-based learning, this session will help participants learn innovative ways to enliven lesson plans, focus learner attention, decrease classroom boredom, and yield enhanced learning outcomes.

THE POWER OF THE PROCESS COMMUNICATION MODEL FOR SUSTAINING DROPOUT PREVENTION PROGRAMS [0704]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Eton
Presenter: Dr. Kathleen Vespia, Salve Regina University, Newport, RI

Amazing presentations on the Process Communication Model (PCM) have been a valued staple of the NDPN conferences. You will learn how one researcher/practitioner applied these concepts in developing and implementing a dropout prevention program in a failing high school. Learn specific strategies that led to effective communication with students and parents, and equally important, building staff. PCM played a critical role in the success of this program and can in your dropout prevention efforts!

DESIGN YOUR OWN PROJECT-BASED CHARACTER STRENGTH PROGRAM USING COMMUNITY PARTNERS [0705]
Strand: Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Dr. Pamela Bruening, National Alternative Education Association, Naples, FL

Tired of looking for the “perfect solution” for your students in building positive character, a high level of engagement, and utilizing community partners? The most effective programs follow specific research tenets and can be personalized for your setting and community. Come and work with others to design your own programs based on these researched best practices!

EARLY WARNING AND INTERVENTION: REACHING STUDENTS BEFORE MAJOR NEGATIVE EVENTS HAPPEN [0706]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Dr. Kristal Ayres and Dr. Steve Paine, BrightBytes, San Francisco, CA; and Dr. Mariam Azin, Mazin Education, Park City, UT

Students who are becoming disengaged from school and are at risk for major behavioral events or dropping out typically show signs years in advance. Substantial developments have been made in promoting earlier and more accurate identification of students who are at risk. This session will provide an overview of the latest research and technology developments as it pertains to early warning systems.

TALKIN’ ABOUT LIFE: HOW TO MOTIVATE AT-RISK YOUTH TO DESIRE SUCCESS IN SCHOOL [0707]
Strand: Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Mr. Jules Ferguson, Talkin’ About Life, Anchorage, AK

Jules talks about the challenges at-risk youth face today and how to help teachers and administrators successfully deal with them in a classroom setting. He teaches staff how to motivate kids to desire to change their life by first changing their minds and attitudes. He also helps staff focus on using the tools they already possess in an effort to build better relationships with at-risk youth.

STOPPING THE SCHOOL-TO-PRISON PIPELINE WITH AN INTERAGENCY AGREEMENT [0708]
Strand: Juvenile Justice and Law Enforcement
Location: Hampton
Presenters: Dr. Janna Robertson, University of NC-Wilmington, Dropout Prevention Coalition, Wilmington, NC; Hon. Julius Corpening, Family Court, District 5, Wilmington, NC; and Ms. Judy Stubblefield, New Hanover County Schools, Wilmington, NC

Find out about an Interagency Agreement to plug our local “school-to-prison” pipeline! In November, our school district entered an agreement with law enforcement, mental health, and social services to focus on prevention and support of students, and to limit referral to law enforcement for nonviolent offenses.
IDENTIFY AT-RISK STUDENTS EARLY AND WITH 2X THE ACCURACY when compared to traditional flag-based systems

The BrightBytes Early Warning module pinpoints at-risk students and allows you to intervene early to ensure students graduate on time.
The ability of principals and teachers to decrease the number of at-risk students in schools is largely dependent on the creation of safe, orderly learning environments. This interactive session will introduce five major strategies proven to reduce classroom disruptions, increase student achievement, gain parent support, and empower educators.

This session will provide school and mental health professionals with the necessary information to increase awareness of the problem of sexual assault, discuss the key issues related to sexual assault, acknowledge the scope of this traumatic event, and demonstrate guidelines for appropriate interventions to address sexual assault victims.

The Citadel has developed a service-learning program to create and advance programs in leader development, ethics education, and community engagement. This program offers opportunities for students to serve in community schools and educational programs to enhance the education of local PK-12th grade students. The mission of the program is to educate and develop principled leaders through community engagement.

Memphis is the 21st largest school district in the nation. Most large urban high schools have a myriad of problems. See what the administration did at Kirby High School to address negative behavior such as fighting, class cutting, tardiness, profanity, misbehavior, insubordination, and cafeteria decorum that gave Kirby High a very bad image before this administrator’s arrival.
Rev. James F. Davis currently serves as the pastor of Dunn Creek Baptist Church in Ware Shoals, SC. Rev. Davis also works as a school bus driver and substitute teacher for Ware Shoals School District 51. Rev. Davis was born in Dillon, SC, and graduated from Butler High School in Hartsville, SC. He is a 1977 graduate of South Carolina State University. After college, Rev. Davis served as a Field Artillery Officer in the United States Army for 11 years. Following his military service, Rev. Davis worked as an addictions counselor for the Greenville County Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse for 11 years. Rev. Davis also became an interim pastor while in Hawaii in 1987-88 and has pastored two churches since 1990. He has pastored Dunn Creek Baptist Church of Ware Shoals for 21 years and continues to do so.

Rev. Davis gives back to his community through community service. He is a grief counselor for a funeral home, a Trustee for the Little River Multicultural Complex, and a member of the Ware Shoals High School Improvement Council. Rev. Davis is currently pursuing a Doctorate of Ministry at Anderson University. He has been married to his college sweetheart, Gale (Smith) Davis since 1978. Rev. and Mrs. Davis have one daughter, Ivy Elise.

While Rev. Davis’ work as a minister, counselor, and community servant has always provided valuable assistance to at-risk youth, he became aggressively involved in dropout prevention after attending a districtwide meeting of educators and community leaders on the issue in 2013. Rev. Davis made school success and high school graduation the theme of his church’s youth ministry. He invited school and community leaders to church youth events to encourage school success. He made parents, grandparents, and family support figures in his church aware of the dropout problem and taught them strategies for supporting their children to succeed in school and to graduate. Under the leadership of Rev. Davis, Dunn Creek Baptist Church has hosted numerous youth events that communicate the stay-in-school message and support the school success of children in the Ware Shoals community.

Rev. Davis creatively spreads the message of school success beyond his ministry at Dunn Creek Baptist Church. He leads a group of church and community members who regularly attend local school board meetings and offer support and assistance to school system leadership to improve graduation rates. As a school bus driver, Rev. Davis drives “Bus #8” and all his young passengers know and share the bus motto, “You ride Bus Eight, be Good, be Great and you will Graduate!!” The graduation rate of Ware Shoals School District 51 is showing significant improvement that results from the schools and community working together. Rev. James Davis, as a leader in the faith community, has guided adults to assist students in school success and to support the school system’s graduation rate improvement efforts. In Ware Shoals, the community sends a loud message of school success and expectation of graduation to its children. That message is in large part due to the dedication and creativity of Rev. James F. Davis.

Dr. Shanan Chappell currently serves as Research Assistant Professor and Assistant Director for Quantitative Analytics in The Center for Educational Partnerships at Old Dominion University. She holds a PhD in Curriculum and Instruction from Old Dominion University, a MEd in elementary education from Regent University, and a BA in communications from Virginia Wesleyan College. Shanan is Principal Investigator or Co-Principal Investigator on nearly $30 million in funded educational research activities, performing advanced quantitative analyses and designing quantitative research methodologies for studies occurring in schools across the nation. Since May of 2012, Shanan has served as a Research Fellow with the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network. During that time, she has participated in the NDPC/N’s Solutions to the Dropout Crisis radio and web broadcasts (June 2012 and December 2014). In May of 2015, Shanan presented the findings of a meta-analysis and meta-regression that analyzed the impact of dropout prevention strategies on dropout and graduation rates. The results were published in a technical report that she co-authored with other NDPC/N Research Fellows and center staff, A Meta-Analysis of Dropout Prevention Outcomes and Strategies (available on the NDPC/N Web site). Her other research experience and interests include college and career readiness initiatives, education policy studies, early childhood programs, military child and family educational issues, STEM-related projects, and educational technology initiatives.

Dr. Chappell lives in coastal northeast North Carolina with her husband and their two daughters.

TECHNOLOGY IS THE GREAT EQUALIZER
[0806]
Strand: Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Dr. Joe Parlier and Mr. Richard Boyer, ViziTech USA, Eatonton, GA

Students fall behind, they get discouraged, they fail and don’t think they can compete. Technology is the great equalizer that gives us the ability to give the poorest students in the toughest schools the same level of education that we can give in Silicon Valley, California.

USING PROVEN DROPOUT PREVENTION STRATEGIES TO IMPROVE SWD GRADUATION RATES [0807]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Dr. Linda Meloy, Manhattan Strategy Group, Muscatine, IA

Administrators, teachers, counselors, and agency personnel are using research-based strategies to improve graduation rates—for most students. Students with disabilities continue to have one of the highest dropout rates in most school districts. In this session, Dr. Linda Meloy will explain how the same effective dropout prevention strategies that are yielding results for most students can be adapted to meet the needs of students with disabilities. For each of the 15 Effective Strategies for Dropout Prevention, Dr. Meloy, through her work as a professor and a school psychologist, has a wealth of experience in both special education and dropout prevention, and will offer concrete examples for application for students with special educational needs.

EXAMINING THE USE OF SCHOOL GRADES AS A POLICY MEASURE FOR SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT [0808]
Strand: Leadership, Policy, and Governance
Location: Hampton
Presenter: Dr. Robert Smith, University of North Carolina - Wilmington, Wilmington, NC

North Carolina is in the second year of giving each public school a letter grade. Grades are meant to communicate a school’s performance. However, nearly 100% of schools receiving F and D grades had 50% or higher students in poverty. Do grades help? Other options to support school improvement will be examined.

Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Kensington C
Presenter: Mr. Victor Woods, Success International Incorporated, Bloomingdale, IL

This exciting and dynamic presentation will feature ground-breaking techniques in identifying specific warning signs of at-risk youth, as well as how to facilitate measurable outcomes and how to transition students back into the mainstream of positive behavior.

INTERVENTION STRATEGIES TO ENGAGE STUDENTS FOR SUCCESS [0904]
Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Eton
Presenter: Ms. Dana Van Deinse, Grand Key Education, Mesa, AZ

Participants will explore strategies to improve student motivation. The proven strategies will help students engage with the community through mindset training, goal setting, and creating a sense of belonging with adults and peers.

THE NEW “GAP” KIDS: GOAL ORIENTED, ACADEMICALLY ENGAGED, AND PRODUCTIVE! [0905]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Oxford
Presenters: Ms. Terecia Gill and Mrs. Karen Washington, John J. Wright Educational & Cultural Center, Spotsylvania, VA

This dynamic session will present an innovative approach for transforming the perception of students traditionally found in the “Achievement Gap” into the new GAP kids—students who are motivated, dedicated, and committed to changing the circumstances of their lives. Change your perception and you can change lives. Perception is everything!

TEACHING THE MILLENNIAL STUDENT [0906]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Mrs. Abigail Crawford, ANC Focus Consulting, Atlanta, GA; and Ms. Saundra Windom, Crim Open Campus, Atlanta, GA

This interactive session focuses on how teachers can bring excitement into the classroom using effective differentiated instructional strategies. Teachers will learn how to create activities that engage and motivate diverse learners. Participants will have the opportunity to reflect and share their experiences and leave with new insights on how to teach the millennial student.

EDUCATIONAL OPTIONS FOR THE COURT-INVOLVED STUDENT: RECONNECTING TO SCHOOL AND BEYOND [0907]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Ms. Shah Powell, NYC Department of Education, Brooklyn, NY

This workshop will present the strategies utilized by the NYC Dept of Education (D.79) Court Liaison Program to assist court-involved students and their families with educational options at various levels of involvement with the juvenile justice system including, but not limited to, advocacy, assessment, enrollment, and connection to community stakeholders.
A Culture of Personal Responsibility and Respect:
Reducing and Effectively Responding to the Most Challenging Student Behaviors!
(While Building and Strengthening Positive Relationships)

Teachers (and all adults in youth-serving organizations) are actually neuroplasticians! Every interaction we share with the children in our care is building and reinforcing neural pathways and creating lifelong patterns of understandings and responses in their quickly developing brains! This session offers brain-based strategies for:

1. building a positive school climate;
2. preventing (or greatly reducing) incidents of student misbehavior in the classroom;
3. troubleshooting and responding effectively in the moment;
4. designing meaningful consequences that teach, rather than punish.

Customizable, Restorative Justice Disciplinary Approaches for Schools and Youth-Serving Organizations (Part 1) [1101]
Strand: School Climate
Location: Kensington A
Presenters: Ms. Pender Makin and Ms. Page Nichols, Collaborative for Perpetual Innovation, Portland, ME

This 2-Part, Interactive Workshop provides participants with the understandings, strategies, and reproducible materials for developing a Restorative Justice Disciplinary Approach in any classroom, school, and/or school district.

Restorative Justice Part I: Participants will learn about the critical components in an effective restorative discipline system, including: shaping adult understandings and attitudes toward student behavior; fostering internal locus of control in youth; developing a tiered system of prevention and response with respect to student behavior. We will offer an instrument for identifying the underlying causes of student behavior and a customizable 5-step Restorative Process that can be modified for any youth-serving organizational setting.

The Dropout Mindset: Applying Growth Mindset to Dropout Prevention Interventions to Increase Academic Achievement of At-Risk Youth [1104]
Strand: Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Eton
Presenter: Ms. Lisa Kulka, University at Buffalo Liberty Partnerships Program, Buffalo, NY

Carol Dweck’s seminal research around Growth Mindset has had unexpected applications in the field of dropout prevention. This session will explore a dropout prevention program’s use of Growth Mindset ideals to positively and significantly impact the behavior, grades, and standardized assessment scores of at-risk youth and replicability of its practices.

Emotion Coaching: Teaching Emotional Intelligence and Moral Behaviors [1105]
Strand: Lifeskills and Personal Development
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Dr. Michael Hylen, Asbury University, Wilmore, KY

This workshop focuses on the benefits of a coaching approach to helping students mature emotionally. Relationship building skills and the benefits of such an approach are emphasized. Educators will see the benefit of empathy and building trusted relationships in teaching moral behaviors and positive social skills.

Online and On Track: Helping Students Reengage with School [1106]
Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Winchester
Presenter: Ms. Alice Smith, Edgenuity, Scottsdale, AZ

Across the county, schools and districts are using online and blended learning to help students recover credits and provide an alternative learning environment so students can reengage with school. Learn how you can implement an online or blended program to help students stay on track for graduation, offer targeted intervention to close learning gaps, and more. Participants will also share best practices, as well as obstacles, in planning for and implementing an online or blended learning program. Join us to discuss flexible solutions that propel student success, empower every teacher to deliver more effective instruction, and enable schools and districts to meet their academic goals.
Every child deserves to stand tall, to stand proud… to reach beyond whatever holds them down and meet their future, head on.

That’s why we’re here.

AdvancePath’s Services

Using our 20-year, research-validated, noncognitive assessment, we survey ALL of your students, identify those at risk, why they are at risk and what interventions are required to rebuild their Resiliency and Academic Skills

In-Class, In-School or In-District solutions to meet individual students’ needs—from Teacher PD and Student Resiliency Curriculum to programs for long-term academic deficient and suspended/expelled students requiring extensive wraparound services

Ongoing Surveys to identify progress or continuing/shifting student issues
Ongoing Placement—students move up/down service continuum based on need
Ongoing PD—based on needs (provided by District or AdvancePath)

IMPACT AND RELATIONSHIP OF COMBINING NONTRADITIONAL ALTERNATIVE SCHOOLS AND CAREER AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS ON INCREASING GRADUATION RATES [1107]

Strand: Interacting With Specific Populations
Location: Pembroke
Presenter: Dr. Tommy Stephens, National Dropout Prevention Center/Network, Clemson, SC

This presentation will discuss the importance and impact of combining nontraditional alternative school and CTE programs to increase graduation rates. Alternative schools and CTE programs are two of the NDPC/N’s fifteen research-based core dropout prevention strategies. The discussion will center around utilization of a nontraditional approach to alternative schools in concert with appropriate CTE pathways taught using applied instruction principles.

CUSTOMIZABLE, RESTORATIVE JUSTICE DISCIPLINARY APPROACHES FOR SCHOOLS AND YOUTH-SERVING ORGANIZATIONS (PART 2) [1201]

Strand: School Climate
Location: Kensington A
Presenters: Ms. Pender Makin and Ms. Page Nichols, Collaborative for Perpetual Innovation, Portland, ME

This 2-Part, Interactive Workshop provides participants with the understandings, strategies, and reproducible materials for developing a Restorative Justice Disciplinary Approach in any classroom, school, and/or school district.

Restorative Justice Part II: Participants in this hands-on session will develop a customized plan for using restorative disciplinary practices in your own settings. We will provide in-depth training in implementation of the Restorative Process, and will practice with actual situations from your most problematic experiences with student behavior. Strategies for sharing these practices with others in your organization and many reproducible materials will be provided.

HELPING AT-RISK STUDENTS BEFORE THEY BECOME...THE WALKING DEAD [1204]

Strand: Leadership, Policy, and Governance
Location: Eton
Presenter: Ms. LeAnn Stewart, AdvancePath Academics, White House, TN

Perplexed by students who suddenly dropout or stop performing? Need to find out “why” students journey into the “at-risk zone”? Join us for an interactive session that helps identify students who have the highest potential to become your school’s “Walking Dead.” Learn about the early warning signs and easy-to-use tools that accurately predict academic performance and graduation rates much earlier than the traditional ABCs. Plus, take home intervention strategies and ways to “rewrite the prequel.”

HOW CAN I CREATE, SUPPORT, AND MONITOR PERSONALIZED LEARNING PLANS FOR MY STAFF AND STUDENTS? [1205]

Strand: Leadership, Policy, and Governance
Location: Oxford
Presenter: Mrs. Kristina MacBury, Sarah Pyle Academy/ Educate4hope LLC, Chadds Ford, PA

This workshop will walk educational leaders through establishing a meaningful web based, online Personalized Learning Plan (PLP) tool for all students, Chart & Track PLP Goal attainment, and align resources accordingly. The presentation will focus on efficient methods to monitor continued and effective implementation for leaders as well as establishing urgency and buy-in from staff, students and parents.

RELATIONSHIPS MATTER [1206]

Strand: Community, Family, and Student Engagement
Location: Winchester
Presenters: Mrs. Stephanie Willis, Pender County Schools, Rocky Point, NC; and Dr. Janna Robertson, Watson College of Education, The University of North Carolina - Wilmington, Wilmington, NC

In this session, you will hear about two programs that use mentoring and afterschool programming to positively impact students. Girls Rocking in the South (GRITS) and DREAMS of Wilmington are committed to strong school-community collaboration to improve the lives of youth and their families.
This presentation will address strategies by which school and system leaders can effectively communicate about and address the dropout issue in their schools and communities. The presenter will focus on research findings, trend data, and effective intervention strategies that will focus educator and community attention on the issue, generate increased local support for dropout prevention efforts, and mobilize local resources to improve graduation rates.

The Diploma Planning Institute guides district and school administrators toward building a foundational dropout prevention plan based on researched and proven strategies. Administrators work directly with national field experts to utilize local data and direct knowledge of their students to design a customized plan for their school system. By implementing a strategic, systemic plan and streamlining their vision, schools can minimize the frustration and futility of incohesive efforts. After the initial DPI training, leaders can network with colleagues in similar school settings from across the country and are provided access to the nation’s largest resource of information, research, and expertise on dropout prevention.

During DPI, participants will:

- Examine and discuss local data
- Learn about research-based strategies
- Identify current and potential efforts
- Target specific needs and risk factors
- Collaborate with colleagues
- Develop next steps for implementation

DPI’s goal is to help schools and districts turn random acts of dropout prevention into a strategic, systemic approach.

-Dr. Sandy Addis, Director, NDPC/N

The National Dropout Prevention Center/Network (NDPC/N) has a 29-year history of providing quality resources and assistance to states, districts, and schools. Let us help you impact your graduation rates.

Testimonials

After our DPI, participating committees returned to their schools with workable plans to engage the greater communities, and with the ongoing support of their peers and national experts.

–Commissioner State Department of Education

This professional development opportunity should be made widely available to educators everywhere.

–Assistant Superintendent of Schools

The feedback from our DPI has been phenomenal; in fact, a Superintendent called me today to tell me that the team he sent is enthusiastic and has already set up a meeting with him to move things along.
