Join district teams from around Ohio and create a strategic dropout prevention plan with assistance from Clemson University and the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network in this two-day conference you won’t want to miss!

Send a District Team of 3-6 People To:

Learn research-based and proven strategies on dropout prevention planning.

Meet last year’s cohort and hear testimonials of successful strategies to change the mindset of staff, students and the community about the importance of graduation.

Utilize local data and knowledge to design a customized plan alongside national field experts.

Target specific needs and risk factors and identify current and potential efforts.

Network with colleagues in similar school settings around the country.

Access the nation’s largest resource for information, research and expertise on dropout prevention.

---

The Details

When:
February 23-24, 2017
8:30am-3:30pm
*Continental breakfast and lunch provided each day.

Where:
ESC of Central Ohio
2080 Citygate Drive
Columbus, OH 43219

Cost:
$475 per person

Graduate Credit:
1 hour of Ashland University credit is available for an additional $249.

Questions?
Janet.Gillig@escco.org or 614.753.4650

---

What People are Saying:

> After our DPI, participating committees returned to their schools with workable plans to engage the greater communities with the ongoing support of their peers and national experts.

- Commissioner, State Department of Education

---

Register Today

bit.ly/ESCdiploma2017