Crystal Star Award of Excellence in Dropout
Recovery, Intervention, and Prevention Nominations

NATIONAL DROPOUT
PREVENTION CENTER

Nominations for the National Dropout Prevention Center Crystal Star Award of Excellence in Dropout Recovery, Intervention, and Prevention are now being accepted. We need your help in identifying and honoring outstanding programs and individuals in the field of dropout prevention. This packet contains all nomination forms for both Program and Individual Award nominations.

The purpose of the National Dropout Prevention Network (NDPC) Award of Excellence in Dropout Recovery, Intervention, and Prevention is to identify and bring national recognition to outstanding programs or individuals that have made significant contributions to the advancement of the mission of the NDPC.

The Crystal Star Awards of Excellence in Dropout Recovery, Intervention, and Prevention are open for nominations from anyone active in the field of dropout prevention. For a program or individual to be recognized, there must be a clear evidence of accomplishments contributing to effective dropout prevention strategies and work that furthers the mission of the Network.

Nominations Due: June 29, 2019

Forms and documents should be scanned and submitted electronically to John Gailer at jgailer@dropoutprevention.org. Questions and comments should be directed to John Gailer via email, jgailer@dropoutprevention.org or telephone, 864-712-3704.

Program Award Criteria and Instructions

In order to be nominated for a Crystal Star Award of Excellence in Dropout Recovery, Intervention, and Prevention, a program must have been in operation for a minimum of three years, have empirical data to demonstrate effectiveness, and have implemented at least five of the strategies listed below.

Instructions

1. The nominating team or individual should complete the "Program Nomination Form."
2. The nominating team or individual should craft a narrative describing the operation and impact of the program nominated. The narrative must be submitted in Microsoft WORD format using 12-point Times New Roman font, single-spaced with one inch margins and should not exceed 10 pages. It should be constructed as follows:
 - I. Program Abstract (One page, single spaced description of program and statistics demonstrating effectiveness)
 - II. Program Goals and Purpose
 - III. Objectives of the Program
 - IV. Target Population
 - V. Description of the program's use of researched-based strategies. Must address at least five of the following (please use headings for each strategy):
 - Systemic Approach: A continuing process of evaluating goals and objectives related to school policies, practices, and organizational structures as they impact a diverse group of learners is provided.
 - School-Community Collaboration: The program works with a variety of groups in the community to establish collective support for the school and to provide a strong infrastructure to sustain a caring environment where youth can thrive and achieve.
 - Safe Learning Environments: Create a learning environment that provides daily experiences, at all grade levels, which enhance positive social attitudes and effective interpersonal skills in all students.
 - Family Engagement: School planning teams receive training in strategies to help parents and other family members become active and informed partners in helping their children pursue and achieve their educational goals. Family members are involved in workshops and meetings to gain the necessary skills.
 - Early Childhood Education: Students identified as at-risk at a young age receive the best possible classroom instruction from the beginning of their school experience.
 - Early Literacy Development: Early interventions to help low-achieving students improve their reading and writing skills, establishing the necessary foundation for effective learning in all subjects are fostered.
 - Mentoring/Tutoring: One-to-one involvement in a mentoring or tutoring situation is utilized.
 - Service-Learning: Meaningful communityservice experiences with academic learning, personal growth and civic responsibility are connected.
 - Alternative Schooling: Alternative academic and vocational programs, varied learning environments and flexible scheduling to meet identified needs of students are offered.
 - After-School Opportunities: Students are involved in a variety of activities during after-school or summer sessions: study skills, enrichment events, and accelerated courses.
 - Professional Development: The staff is engaged in professional development activities and research that contribute to exemplary teaching practices in dropout prevention.
 - Active Learning: Students are empowered to find new and creative ways to solve problems, achieve success, and become lifelong learners.
 - Educational Technology: Students are engaged in authentic learning, and technology is used to address multiple intelligences and learning styles.
 - Individualized Instruction: Components are customized to meet the various needs of students and to help students develop responsibility for their own learning.
 - Career and Technical Education: Opportunities are provided to learn the skills necessary to measure up to the larger demands of today's workplace.
 - VI. Indicators of Effectiveness (e.g., improvement in the dropout rate, increased academic achievement, fewer discipline referrals, and/or improved attendance)
 - VII. Evaluation-how the program is evaluated and when it was evaluated
 - VIII. Lessons learned-share what you have learned that may benefit others interested in establishing a similar program
3. The Program Nomination Form and narrative must be emailed together prior to the deadline for award nominations.

A panel of judges will review each individual nomination for the Crystal Star Awards of Excellence in Dropout Recovery, Intervention and Prevention according to the criteria and process listed above.
